INTERNATIONAL FAST-TRACK HIGH SCHOOL COMPLETION PROGRAM

International students are welcome to complete their high school diploma here at Pierce College if they do not have a high school diploma from their home country and will be at least 16 years old by the time they start classes.

There are two primary advantages to enrolling in the Fast-Track High School Completion program:

1

Save time and money

Students in the International Fast Track program can start college before they finish high school. They earn a Washington state high school diploma and at the same time earn college credit toward their associate degree.

2

Prepare for Success

Students gain critical study skills, adjust to the US education system and learn about American culture prior to attending a four year university.

The length of the program depends on the student's English level and high school transcripts. Each student will have unique circumstances yet many students complete the program in two to two-and-a-half years then transfer to a university to complete their bachelor's degree.

“

With the High School Completion Program, I can get my high school diploma and associate degree really quickly and then move on to university to complete my bachelor's degree. In fact, I've just been admitted to George Mason University and will complete my bachelor's degree there!”
